

Bologna Film Festival -- Il Cinema Ritrovato

Founded in 1986, the annual Bologna Film Festival, features films from early cinema to the 1960s. It is dedicated to showcasing new restorations and archival reconstructions from around the world.

Its data base with thousands of titles identified as “film cards,” i.e. info sheets that contain production details and the title of the section in which the film was exhibited in the festival; they also feature short essays, “Film Notes,” for each film.
